What the 2018 iPad won't have is the second-generation 12.9-inch and 10.5-inch iPad Pro's ProMotion technology, which renders 120 positions per second of the Pencil's 240Hz input (essentially halving the stylus's lag time from 40ms to 20ms). You'll notice this difference most in sketching apps like Procreate, whose brushes require significantly more computational power to render on screen.
