A scuba set is any breathing apparatus that is carried entirely by an underwater diver and provides the diver with breathing gas at the ambient pressure. Scuba is an acronym for self-contained underwater breathing apparatus. Although strictly speaking the scuba set is only the diving equipment which is required for providing breathing gas to the diver, general usage includes the harness by ...

Scuba diving, from the beginning, had an air of dangerous allure. Every landlocked schoolboy knew of its intriguing hazards: the bends, which caused a diver's veins to fizz with carbonated blood until he died a ghastly, percolating death; and rapture of the deep, which took away his reason, filled his heart with false contentment, and drew him down into the ocean gloom.

Eagle 56 was later sunk by U-853 off Portland Maine.. While the Jacob Jones may have an interesting history, it is a good example that this does not always translate into a good dive. In fact, after a long boat ride, all you are likely to find is some low unidentifiable wreckage that could easily be an old barge, or anything.
